WFU Honors Neal

By Dianne Piggott

Wake Forest University (WFU) named its On-Campus Throws Complex after the late Clifford Irving Neal, a Winston-Salem native and the school record holder in the hammer throw who died in 2004. Neal was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Awilda) Neal and sister to Ms. Krista Neal, members of New Bethel Baptist Church. The dedication was held on Saturday, March 20, 2010 at 11 a.m. as a part of the WFU Open.

Annie Bennett, Deacon's Director of Track and Field said, "Neal was a great man; his work ethic, discipline and focus are a model for our athletes. His hammer throw record was 194 feet, 10 inches which in 2002 netted him an ACC Championship. He graduated in 2002 and was in law school at the University of North Carolina when he died suddenly in December 2004 at the age of 24.

Neal starred at Mount Tabor High School in Track and Field.

Their New Bethel Family joined the Neal Family for the occasion. A lovely bronze-tone plaque bearing Neal's image with the words, "An All-ACC performer in Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field. Cliff won an ACC Championship in the hammer throw in 2002. His athletic achievements pale in comparison to the personal impact he had on those he encountered." The ceremony was very touching as approximately 25 family members and friends were in attendance. Additionally there were more than 50 former team members and university personnel. His sister, Krista read a very appropriate poem, "The Road" (Continued Page 4, Column 2, Article 3)

Shipp Entitles Message "Taste and See"

By Dianne Piggott

Rev. Jeremiah E. Shipp, an Associate Minister at Piney Grove Baptist Church, brought to New Bethel's Youth/Young Adult day audience a message entitled, "Taste and See" using Matthew 5:13-16 for his text. He began, "Have you ever been asked to taste something that didn't look good? Just as we have struggled to taste something that didn't look good, if our actions don't reflect Christ, it will be difficult to get others to taste Christianity."

Shipp outlined three points for his message: 1) salt it; 2) light it; and 3) let it. Citing Matthew 5:13, "Ye are the salt of the earth," he stressed that salt was a great commodity to the Roman soldiers as it was given as a part of their wages. "When we live a moral and perfect life, it changes things. When you tell people that God is able, you are putting a little salt into their lives; it is adding a little flavor to their lives." In verses 14 and 15, Jesus said, "We should be a light unto the world. Light reveals, exposes and reveals God's love. Whenever there is light, darkness will flee. When the world speaks a lie, the light must rise up with the truth. As light, we are purposed to shine." Rev. Shipp gave Biblical examples of salt and light—Noah, Shadrack, Meshack and Abendigo. He then exclaimed, "I have tasted His love; I have tasted His mercy; I have tasted His kindness and I have seen Him provide and I have seen His strength!"

Mrs. Susie Drayton was saluted for her many years of service. NaiKeesha Poe-Smith presented her a lovely plaque. The program featured as many as 36 years of program participants. Photos of past participants made for an interesting read as well as old photos of past activities.

and the National Cancer Institute. She will assist in the determination of guidelines for the collection of clinical data and/or administration of clinical studies; prepare oral and written presentations or reports, trends, and recommendations or conclusions; review journals, abstracts, and scientific literature to keep abreast of new developments and to obtain information regarding previous studies to aid in the planning of new studies.

Maya is a graduate of Winston-Salem State University and holds degrees in Biology and Chemistry which was the background required.

Maya is thankful to God for blessing her with this position. She realizes that it takes a strong person to work with patients that are sometimes terminally ill. She believes that God has a divine calling for her and her life and she is grateful for his direction. She wants to continue being obedient to him to see what else he has in store for her and her journey.

Exceptional Children as the Personnel Database Manager and provided support to the Secondary EC Program Managers for the district.

Mrs. Redd joined the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County schools in 2004 after 27 years with the former R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company retiring as an IT Research Analyst and after spending more than 23 years in Research and Development.

Her initial plan when pursuing employment with the WS/FC was to become a teacher. She quickly rethought her options and decided that although she asked God's guidance in identifying a place where her talents could best be used, she realized the classroom was probably not a place where her patience and disposition would be appropriately matched. She decided simply to ask God to take her where He wanted her to go and to give her the tools she needed to do what He was sending her to do. It is her prayer everyday. So, after six years with the WS/FC schools and three promotions later, Mrs. Redd will transition to the next opportunity and allow God to use her and her experiences to serve the office of the Superintendent of the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County School District.
