Deacon Charles Hunt, President of the League, bestowed the honors by presenting the two with plaques. Mr. Eaton is an alumnus of Winston-Salem Teachers' College, now Winston-Salem State University. He worked in several school systems in North Carolina as a teacher and administrator for 41 years. Editorial A Caretaker's Role

By Diane Piggott

I have had to assume the role of caretaker for my husband who recently had his left hip replaced. It's a role that I would gladly relinquish if I could. I knew I didn't want to go into the medical field for a reason and now as caretaker for him it is crystal clear. The role comes with a lot of responsibility for a patient who doesn't give a lot of assistance. His medical "expertise" can get in the way of what you felt that you understood as the doctors, nurses, physical and occupational therapists tried to lay out to you. He even forgets that you have his best interest at heart as you ask him to comply with these instructions.

My role gets a little more complicated by the fact that I am also taking care of my 1 year-old granddaughter who is excited that she has mastered movement on her feet. She's exploring the rooms of the house with wreckless abandon. I feel that I am being pulled in many directions.

I didn't realize the balance of chores that we had each assumed, but now that he is out of commission my eyes are being opened. I may have to eat the words—"you don't do anything around here!"

I hope this recuperation period

Sunday School

Make Your Life Count

The Sunday school's lesson for the month of November is about events in the life of Moses that can help believers deepen their walk with God. This study is important because it leads adults to see how God calls them and can use them in significant ways. A life of meaning and purpose comes as we deepen our walk with God.

November 6th—Accept the Call—Exodus 3:1-6, 10-15; 4:10-12

November 13th—Stand for the Lord—Exodus 32:7-20, 25-26

November 20th—Respond to Difficult Situations—Numbers 20:1-13; Psalm 106:32-33

November 27th—Adopt the Right Perspective—Deuteronomy 32:1-9, 36-39, 43

All members of New Bethel are asked to bring at least 6 cans per week for a total of 24 cans during the four weeks Campaign. In addition to bringing cans, you can also bring money. A container will be set up in the Annex to accept monetary donations. All monies will be donated to the Second Harvest Food Bank and checks should be written to the Second Harvest Food Bank.

progresses at a swift pace although I have been assured that it will take anywhere from six months to a year. This has really been an eye-opening lesson for me. It's one that I will pass on to others. You think that you are ready for the experience, but I don't know that I could have prepared for it. I know that I will get through it as I believe that God doesn't put more on you than you can bear. I just didn't know that He had such confidence in me!

YOUTH REPORTER

The Opportunity Of A Lifetime

By Dominique Hill

On Monday, October 17, 2011, I was given the opportunity of a lifetime. I was among the top Civics/History students chosen to journey to West Wilkes High School in Wilkes County to see President Barack Obama as he presented the American Jobs Act.

I woke up that morning, excited about seeing the President of the United States. I dressed in my best suit/tie combination and headed to school. With my Civics teacher leading the way, I and six other classmates began our trip from Winston-Salem Preparatory Academy to West Wilkes High School. The closer we got to Wilkes County; I noticed the presence of law enforcement officers slowly increased along the highway. I witnessed firsthand the level of security required to make sure the area would be safe for President Obama. Once we arrived at our destination, the security was even tighter. Before entering the school's gym, I passed through the Secret Service check points, metal detectors and a K-9 unit.

After about an hour, the President walked out on the stage and the crowd was very excited and welcomed him with cheering. President Obama spoke about the American Jobs Act and how his plan would positively impact the many unemployed Americans across the country. He explained his plan to put more Americans back to work, increase funding for education, and more tax breaks for the middle class.

At the end of his speech, the president exited the platform and began greeting the crowd, shaking hands and giving autographs. I was able to get several pictures of the President for the school's yearbook and most importantly, I positioned myself to be able to shake the hand of the President of the United States—President Barack Obama. It was a surreal moment that I will never forget.

Although we arrived back at school late that night, I can truly say that Monday, October 17, 2011 was one of the best days ever.

MRS. DIANE PIGGOTT HONORED BY SUNDAY SCHOOL

Sunday School's Spotlight Shines on Piggott

The Sunday School shines its spotlight for November on Mrs. Diane Piggott, teacher of the Youth Class along with Mrs. Lisa Myers. She assumed the teaching duties of the Youth some twenty-five years ago along with the late Ms. Hazel Ginyard and Mrs. Audrey Easter.

She is a native of Concord where she was educated in the public schools of Cabarrus County. She continued her education at North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro where she received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mathematics Education. As the ninth child of Mrs. Ruth Bell and the late Rev. Cleophus M. Bell of Concord, education was stressed for all eleven children of the Bells. Rev. Bell demanded that a religious education was a part of the family's life.

Mrs. Piggott met her future husband, Daniel Piggott at A&T and they married following graduation in September of 1971. The union was blessed with three children—Daniel, Jr., Dionne and Darryl and they all attended Sunday School along with her. She first sat in on the classes with the children and learned as Mrs. Ginyard and Mrs. Easter instructed the youth. She discovered that she had a calling for working with youth and stayed on to assist. The illness of Mrs. Ginyard's sister, Pauline consumed her time and she and Mrs. Easter joined in partnership around 1985. Mrs. Ginyard would return after the death of her beloved sister.

Mrs. Piggott transitioned well from her Mathematics Classroom to her Sunday School duties. She worked with the youth in Baptist Training Union and the Youth Missionaries as her children grew. She is also a veteran with The Spotlight, the church's newspaper. She is a member of the Deaconesses and Trustee Wives and Church Welcoming Committee where she works the door on the fourth Sundays of each month.

Mrs. Piggott strongly believes in "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and its righteousness and all else will be added unto you. A good religious education or an education in general is essential for the well-being of all."

Hagwood Admonishes "It's Time To Get In Line With The Word" During Pastor's 5th Anniversary

By Diane Piggott

Rev. Dr. C. Lee Hagwood, Sr., Senior Pastor of Agape Bible Christian Fellowship of Martinsville, Virginia told those gathered for the 5th Pastoral Anniversary of Rev. Dr. Kendall D. Jones, Sr., Senior Pastor of New Bethel Baptist Church that "It's Time To Get In Line With The Word." Rev. Robert Carter was Worship Leader.

Dr. Hagwood began by revealing that "we are living in an era where there are more hurting people than ever before. Most people are struggling. It's time for the children of God to get in line with the Word. All of us have faults! We are saved by grace through faith." Using as his scripture, Matthew 13:53-58, he declared, "in recent decades, the world has been invading the church. Whatever we do in the name of the church, we must do it for Christ. It's time we love one another, treat everybody right! It's time to praise the Lord! It's time!!!"

The anniversary celebration showered tokens of appreciation upon Dr. Jones and Mrs. Mae Jones. She received a beautiful bouquet of flowers with a gift bag and he received a lovely, rolling garment bag and matching bag for his laptop. Dr. Jones remarked, "I love my sons and I love my wife of 26 years. I wouldn't be what I am today without her. I am a blessed person!" Tokens of appreciation were presented by Mr. Gregory Cain and Ms. Jennifer Leach.

A beautiful "Black and White Gala" was held in the afternoon following the morning services.

The Anniversary Committee was Co-Chaired by Deacon Carolyn Crosby and Ms. Audrey Brown.

Articles of Faith

We believe the Scriptures teach that the great Gospel blessing which Christ secures to such as believe in Him is justification; that justification includes the pardon of sin and the promise of eternal life on principles of righteousness; that it is bestowed, not in consideration of any works of righteousness which we have done, but solely through faith in the Redeemer's blood.
